

CORPORATE STAYS

BEYOND BUSINESS

Supporting Consultants and Project Teams

Relocating a consultant or project team for an assignment can pose unique challenges. Ensuring that accommodation needs are fulfilled does not have to be one of them. Our knowledgeable team will create a housing plan tailored to the success of your team and your project.

CHALLENGE: Relocating Teams with Flexible Dates

- Projects are often subject to last-minute changes, affecting the length of stays.
- With some housing options, like Airbnb, teams can be scattered across a city.
 - o Coordinating transportation and meetings becomes difficult
 - o Using different apartment providers means that the quality of the guest experience will vary between different team members.

SOLUTION: A Large Inventory of Standardized Apartments

- Our large inventory makes it easy to quickly set up and adjust accommodations even at the last minute
- With multiple units in our buildings, all offering the same standardized furnishing and layout, we can house entire teams in a single building.
 - o Transportation and group logistics become much easier
 - o All team members have the same guest experience.

CHALLENGE: Frustrations of Working on the Road

- Mandates frequently involve long stays; staying in a cramped hotel room, over a long period can affect employee productivity, engagement, and satisfaction.
- Productivity on the road can be affected by an interruption in daily routine, including fitness and nutrition.

SOLUTION: The Comforts of Home:

- A Studio apartment is often at least twice the size of an average hotel room (at a lesser cost,) which is more conducive for longer projects.
- A 2 or 3-bedroom apartment allows team members to host loved ones. This helps morale and reduces the risk of homesickness.
- All apartments come fully furnished with a complete kitchen. Team members can enjoy home-cooked meals while on a project; this option is both healthier and more cost-effective.
- Many buildings include amenities such as fitness centers, pools, and meeting rooms

BEYOND BUSINESS

CHALLENGE: Logistics and Finances

- Housing partners must be located near to worksites.
- Hotels prices are designed for short stays and often become expensive for longer projects
- When booking with different suppliers, arranging billing, booking, and travel can become a project itself, distracting from priorities.

SOLUTION: Simplified Logistics from Booking to Check-Out:

- All Corporate Stays accommodations are in central locations in major cities; accessing work sites is easy.
- We provide timely, detailed, and clear invoices, making for a simplified billing process.
- You will have a dedicated housing manager to guide you every step of the way; a “one-stop shop” for all of your housing needs.
- Corporate Stays apartments are often priced 30% to 40% less than comparable hotels, and pricing decreases as the length of stay increases.
